

History of Economic Thought course syllabus centered around The Clash of Economic Ideas and based on a course I taught at UM – St. Louis

Lawrence H. White

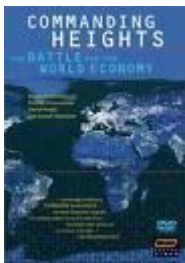

Overview: This course provides an introduction to the historical development of the economic ideas that have changed the world in the last hundred years.

Required reading

Lawrence H. White, The Clash of Economic Ideas: The Great Policy Debates and Experiments of the Last Hundred Years (Cambridge, 2012).

Required viewing (we'll watch the first disc of this set)

Commanding Heights DVD (WGBH, 2002), Episode One: The Battle of Ideas

The video is also available online.

Course materials (syllabus, practice exams) will be available on the course Blackboard site. Many required supplemental readings are at the Commanding Heights site. Others are linked below. You will be required to read a lot.

Lectures will coordinate with chapters of the assigned texts and segments of the DVD (as indicated below), but will also amplify, modify, and supplement what is found there. Understanding the texts is crucial, but it isn't enough: equally important for mastering the course material is taking good lecture notes and studying them.

Requirements:

- two quizzes
- one paper, 8-10 pages long (topic guidelines and due date to be announced)
- cumulative final exam as scheduled by the University.

Each quiz counts for 20% of your grade. The paper counts 30%. The final exam is cumulative and counts the remaining 30%.
